Profile

Hello, I'm Jarrison Cano, I'm currently 19 years old, I live in Medellin, Colombia and I'm studying a technology in design and web development at the Technological University of Antioquia. I have experience working as Software developer with technologies such as: React Js, React Native and TypeScript. I am actively on [GitHub] developing and collaborating with the community.

I am a person who likes challenges, continuous learning and trying on a daily basis to grow personally and professionally. I am a lover of developing with technologies focused on JavaScript and sharing my knowledge with others. I am passionate about Formula 1 and I like to practice sports, especially running and cycling.
